

HVAC Engineer Needed: Immediate job opening at Alfa Tech Cambridge Group's San Jose office. Min. BSME, with experience working with consulting engineering firm as HVAC engineer and EIT preferred. AutoCAD familiarity required. A highly motivated self-starter with exceptional communication and computer skills is required to assist engineering staff with Autocad drafting, ductwork and piping layout and design, and field verification.

The selected candidate will have demonstrated competency in the following:

- Familiarity with HVAC system concepts and engineering calculation methods
- Autocad drafting to meet corporate or customer Cad standards and guidelines

This is a great opportunity for a highly motivated person. Alfa Tech Cambridge Group, Inc. is the leading MEPT consulting firm in the Bay Area, with a reputation for quality engineering and exceptional service with projects in Education, Bio-tech, Microelectronics, High Tech, Healthcare, and Industrial projects. Competitive salary and benefits, including 401(k), stock ownership, "Cafeteria Plan", etc.

ALFA TECH Cambridge Group, Inc. is looking for qualified engineers and designers to join us in providing the best possible professional services in the Commercial, Manufacturing and Institutional facilities design field. As technology and business expand, so does the need for facilities that satisfy the technical, economic and user requirements of those industries. Offering professional design services in Mechanical, Electrical, Process, Telecommunications and Project Management, ALFA TECH Cambridge Group is at the leading edge of planning the future for Silicon Valley, and the world! Why not be a part of it?